Give Us A Sign by Tony Domaille

Ken unfortunately finds himself out of work. Frustrated with his wife Rachel moaning at him every day to do something other than watch TV and bet on the horses, he decides to set himself up as a clairvoyant, drawing on his 20 years' experience as a salesman. How hard could it be?

What he does not consider, however, is MI5 and two secret agents all wanting to use his new skills to contact a dead scientist who has secrets they all need.

Flashing lights are used during this performance

The play is set over two Acts with a 15 minute interval.
